G. E. WARD LOCATES WIFE AND CHILDREN,

See Them and Then Writes to Mrs. Ward.

George E. Ward, who came to St. Louis last Monday from Pleasant Hill, Mo., ir search of his wife; whom he has thrice married, and their four children, who are with her, located his family yesterday at No. 2826 St. Louis avenue, where they are staying with Ralph Creese.

Ward made an ineffectual attempt to see his wife and children. After writing Mrs. Ward a note, in which he begged her, for he sake of their children, to join him, and delivering it bimself at the house, he left the neighborhood.

In the communication he implored her to get away from the influence of her rela-tives and to again establish a home with him, where he could enjoy the presence of

Last night Ward declared his intention of leaving the city.
"I shall not go far away," he said; "but "I shall not go far away," he said; "but I shall give my wife an opportunity to do the right thing by me, and I hope to hear from her. I told her in my letter to address me at the general delivery. I cannot live without my children, I love them more than I do my own life, and I am determined to have them with me." have them with me."

Ward said that he located his children through some of their playmates at the Columbia School, on Garrison avenue near St. Louis avenue. He learned that his children were pupils at the institution, so he waited near hy vesterday at moon expecting. waited near-by yesterday at moon, expecting to meet them

But their mother, apparently, had heard of his presence in the neighborhood, for the children did not attend school yesterday. Ward's domestic troubles were related in detail in Tuesday's Republic. His wife has twice obtained a divorce from him, only to remarry him each time. He hopes for anreconcillation, but says that it will not be permanent onless his wife removes herself from the influence of her relatives, whom he biames for the unfortunate state of affairs in his family.

JUDGE H. A. CLOVER'S WILL.

Estate Divided Among Widow Children and Nieces.

The will of Judge Henry A. Clover was filed for probate yesterday. He left his estate, subject to some brquests, to his wife, Bettie, to be distributed after her death in Circuit Court in St. Francois County many years ago. At the expiration of his term of office he gave up the practice of law and went to farming, removing with his family to the farm near Meramed Highlands.

As the country became more thickly settled and rapid transportation was lattreduced the value of his property became greater and he was considered quite wealthy. The Murphy home is on the banks of the Meramec near the ford above the Highlands, and is well known to city hunters and campets.

Judge Murphy had been feeble for more than a year and his life had been despaired of for several weeks. On last Monday it became evident that his death was only a matter of hours. He died at 9 o'clock Wednesday evening, His widow and children, Doctor R. Brent Murphy, of No. 883 Manchester avenue, and Miss Annie Murphy, were at his bedside when he died, He was an uncle of Doctor John H. Papin of this city.

WOMAN ENTERED

CHURCH TO DIE.

Glass of Water and Passed Away Suddenly.

PASTOR WENT FOR A DOCTOR. WORE MESSENGER'S UNIFORM.

When the Physician Arrived at the Church of the Society of Practical Christians She Was Dead.

While services were in progress last night in the basement of the church at the southeast corner of Eighteenth and Pestaozzi streets, occupied by the Society of Practical Christians, an elderly woman entered and, sinking into a chair, called for a glass of water. Within a few miautes she fell into an unconscious state and died almost immediately. The woman was an utter stranger to all the members of the congregation. She came down the steps into the basement rather noisily, and as she sat down exclaimed: "O, I am so heavy!" She then called for a glass of water, which was handed her. The pastor of the church, H. H. Schroeder of No. 2622 South Twelfth street, seeing the woman's condition, ran for Doctor Pohrer of Nineteenth and Pestalozzi streets. The physician responded at once, but when the two entered the basement the woman was dead. The time from her entrance to her death did not exceed five minutes. The doctor could not state positively the cause of her demise, but at- for some time and the police are unable to tributed it to heart failure.

The body was taken to the morgue, but at a late hour last night no one had idenified it. The woman was about 50 years of age, weighed fully 175 pounds and was comfortably dressed, wearing a brown coverskirt, black walst, low-cut shoes and a black fascinator. She had brown hair and

Shortly after the body reached the morgue the face began to swell and to become dis-colored. Whether this was from natural causes or from a drug could not be deermined last night. Mr. Schroeder said that he had just arrived at the church after a trip to Illinois, when he saw the woman seated in a chair, apparently very sick. He at ones went for the doctor, but when he returned the woman was dead, in the arms of Mrs. Minute Reeg of No. 2827 Lyons street. The church where the death occurred was formerly the Westminster Baptist Church. For the last two years, however, it has been occupied by the Society of Practical Chris-

BOY'S INFATUATION

Sank Into a Chair, Called for a Frank Lowry of Indianapolis Stole to Get Money to Spend on Grace Patton.

And Delivered Flowers to Her, From Himself, at Her Room -She Is Playing in St Louis This Week.

Infatuation for Grace Patton, a variety actress now playing with the Rice and Burton show at the Standard Theater. prompted Frank Lowry, son of a wealthy Indianapolis family, to become a burglar to spend the proceeds of his thefts in presents for the woman he admired. The Indianapolis, volice, according to special dispatch to The Republic from that city, have young Lowry in custody with three boy companions, who were also enamored of chorus girls, and who took to stealing that they might have money to entertain them. According to the actress, young Lowry, In order to gain admittance to her room in the hotel at Indianapolis, disguised himself as a messenger boy on several occasions and called to deliver flowers from himself. She claims she did not discover his identity until she was leaving Indianapolis. The boys, according to the special dispatch from Indianapolis, have been robbing drug stores, offices and other stores estimate the amount of their stealings. Young Lowry's attachment for Grace Patton was revealed by a letter written by her, which was found in his possession when he was arrested. Subsequently, the police learned that he had made her a number of presents, among them a ring, which the Patton woman returned to him, with the request that he have it made smaller. Lowry became acquainted with the actress while she was performing at the Empire Theater in Indianapolis. Grace Patton's stage name is Nellie Bor-Her husband, Richard Patter the advance agent for the Rice & Barton Speaking of the telegram from Indian polis last night, Grace Patton sald: "When our company was in Indianapolis ast week there was a young man who an noyed me very much. In the first part of our engagement there he frequently and persistently sought to induce me to accompany him to after-theater suppers. I stub bornly refused. Then the young whose name I afterwards learned Frank Lowry, wrote several notes which I mored. "Finally he learned of my room in the hotel, and every day, about dinner time, I re-ceived a beautiful bouquet of roses. I observed that these flowers were niways or livered by the same messenger boy, and the day before our departure from Indianapolis I learned that the messenger boy was the young man who had repeatedly made strenious efforts to secure my acceptance 79 supper invitations.

"I endeavored to explain to him the folly of his devotion, without avail, I was guad when our company left Indianapolis, and I thought that I had done with him. Tuesday of this week I received a letter postmarked Indianapolis and signed Frank Lowry. In the envelope was a ring, carefully wrapped in cotton. The raised opal setting of the ring was surrounded by a circle of small

"Naturally I am suspicious of opals, and I immediately gave the ring to a friend of mine in the company. Lowry called me up yesterday over the long-distance phone and I refused to answer the message upon learning from whom it came. Then he tele-graphed me, and asked me if I had received the ring. I did not answer the telegram,"

BIG FORCE NEEDED TO SUBDUE FILIPINOS

Professor Schurman Declares That an Army of One Hundred Thousand Men Necessary.

New York, Nov. 15 .- President J. G. Schurman of Cornell University made an address on "Our Duty to the Philippines" to the Baptist Social Union to-night. Doctor Schurman summed up the duty of the American Government as follows:

"To protect American seldlers and life; to protect the lives of Filipinos and their property who would be loyal; to stamp out guerilla warfare; to create such perma nency of power that every man, woman and child in the archipelago will know that we mean to stamp out this warfare. In addition, to send there an army so large and permanent that it can accomplish those

"General Lawton told me," declared the speaker. 'that an army of 100,000 men would be needed, and reports from the islands prove it. I hope and pray that Congress will not consider the matter in a penny wise and pound foolish way. Do not send a sufficient force, but an overwhelming force. Nothing has burt us so much in the Philippines as changing our army and withdrawing part of it. They said that we were going to give up the job. I pray that Con-gress will give us an army large enough to wind up the business. The greater preliminary cost will mean the greater econ-omy in the long run.

"I have more at heart our moral mission I do not believe that we should exploit for eigh lands for our benefit at home. The eign lands for our benefit at home. The islands come as the inevitable result of our war with Spain, and, having come to us, I believe in fulfilling our obligations. So, I say, put down the insurrection, make life secure, set up courts, give the people all the home rule they are capable of. That is the immediate daty. Leave the rest to our grandchildren. The population of the island will then be fused in one nation. If they demand complete separation our descendants will grant it. But it is a question if they will want it."

INVITATION TO ROSEBERY. Campbell-Bannerman Asks Him to Return to the Leadership.

London, Nov. 15.—Sir Henry Campbell-Sancerman, the Liberal leader in the last House of Commons, speaking at Dundee to-day, said he hoped Lord Rosebery would return to the leadership of the Liberala, adding that if he did he must be chief of the whole party. He had never understood why Lord Rosebery retired in 1896. The Lib-erals would all welcome him back again. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's invita-tion to Lord Rosebery attracts considerable attention in the morning papers, but seeing that he selzed the same occasion to deal rather severely with the imperialist circle of the Liberals, which the chief Liberal or-gan, the Daily News, strongly resents, it is not believed that the incident will bring the reunion of the Liberal party apprecia-bly nearer. adding that if he did he must be chief o

POLICE MAKE THEATER RULES. Regulate Waits Between Acts and Applause of Actors.

St. Petersburg, Friday, Nov. 15.-It is reported that the police of Kieff have taken he theaters of that city in hand. They have not found it necessary to measure the have not found it necessary to measure the length of the skirts of the members of the ballet. The evils which they desire to correct, and no doubt have already satisfactorily corrected, are of another character. There was some complaint that the pauses between the acts were too long, and the police decided that these waits must not last over fifteen minutes. The police also discovered that certain actors were being discovered that certain actors were being applauded far beyond their real merits.

They, therefore, decided that in future

no actor may be applauded more than three times during the same performance. Stops the Cough and Works Off the Cold. Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No Cure, No Pay, Price 25 cts.
